„Chinese Medicine and Spirituality: Cultivation of the Practitioner, the Healer and the Alchemist “

Hans Erik Foldberg, Denmark

Hans Erik Foldberg (DK) finished his basic exam in acupuncture in 1988. Since then he has studied the “Heart of nature’s way” by Michael Conelly for a period of two years. He took practical and theoretical advice from different Chinese professors while living in China and by inviting them to visit his clinic in Denmark. He has made the foundation of his work with patients on the basis of Traditional Chinese medicine.

Courses by Michael McIntyre, Peter Deadman, Giovanni Maccioccia etc. made me realise how important humility is when it comes to treating people.

Masters of Chinese medicine and philosophy inspired me to hold courses for patients, doctors, and directors of private companies and organisations. The aim is to make life quality manageable and tangible for everyone.
